

These Are The Times

These are the times we have been made for;
Believe you've got what it takes
Join the river of unity to restore
Love and healing to the human race;

Hear the urgings of a natural world.
Your still, small voice too
[They] tell us – Stop now; hands on your heart
Remember what you once knew

Chorus: These are the times we have been made for;
Believe you've got what it takes
Join the river of unity to restore Love and healing to the human race; love and healing to the human race

Ears of my ears hear differently *
Eyes of my eyes now see
If even – One of us is suffering
The waters of life won't flow free

Bridge: Here's where we open what's dammed up inside
Here's where we unite and stand for all life!

* An ode to E.E. Cummings poem "I thank you God for most this amazing"
